SUGGESTIONS:

AT ARCADIAN WINERY, we strive to create wines that fully express the distinct characteristics of each vineyard we source in California's Central Coast region. To this end, whenever possible we lease a portion of a vineyard and control its farming opposed to simply purchasing grapes at harvest from a grower. This added input during the growing season allows us to manage crop yields (we keep these very low and farm our grapes to one kilo per plant) and as a result, fruit quality is greatly increased. The resulting wine speaks more about where it came from than about the hands that made it. This "somewhereness" vs. "someoneness" concept appeals to us because we believe that the best wines are made in the vineyard.

HOW GRAND CRU SOCIETY WORKS:

I understand that by filling out the enclosed form my credit card will be billed automatically four to six times per year for a two-bottle shipment (or more as requested) of two unique Arcadian wine selections. I further understand that I may be billed separately by an outside shipper for shipping and handling. I may cancel my membership at any time after two initial shipments. Additionally, I have the option to increase the number of bottles per shipment by checking the appropriate box below my signature on the enclosed form, or at any time during my membership by written notification. Library wines may be offered in addition to my GCS selections, but I understand that I am at no obligation to take advantage of these offers.
